PAYS $25 FINE FOR TAMPERING

Robert M. Saunders, 127 S. Franklin St., paid a fine of $25 and costs before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Thursday night on a charge of tampering with the auto of George R. Miller, 117 Breckenridge St.

Miller's car was parked on W. Middle St. when, according to the information placed by Miller before the justice, Saunders entered the car and worked the gear shift.

Saunders, steward at the Dorsey-Stanton American Legion Post, said he paid the fine to avoid "being tied up by this" because, he said, he plans to enter the Navy today.

Miller brought a similar charge against Donald Hailey, Gettysburg, who posted bail for a later hearing. Hailey claimed he had not entered Miller's car, or caused any damage to it. Witnesses at the hearing for Saunders said that when they came on the scene it appeared as if Hailey was seeking to get Saunders out of the car.

Borough police took the two men into custody on a warrant at 10:46 o'clock Thursday night after Miller had placed the charges.

Makeshift Bomb Turns Bar Into Funeral Pyre; 6 Die

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A makeshift gasoline bomb turned a quiet neighborhood bar into a funeral pyre for at least six persons shortly before midnight.

The coroner said six persons died at the scene on a quiet street in south central Los Angeles. At least five others were injured.

Police said the bomb apparently was thrown through the front door of the Club Mecca by three men who had been ejected earlier when they tried to dance with one of the cocktail bar's regular woman customers.

Asst. Fire Chief R. A. Williams said the men sloshed a bucket of gasoline, or some other highly inflammable liquid, onto the floor and then threw a match in after it.

Burtst Like Blow Torch

"It went up like a blow torch," said the bartender, Larry Fenton, 24, who escaped uninjured out the back door.

Others weren't that lucky. One male customer was found on a nearly melted corner barstool, leaning slightly backward against the shattered front wall. Two charred bodies were found in one of the cafe's four booths. Another was on the bar floor.

The only woman victim ran screaming into the street, clothes ablaze. She died soon after, near the body of another victim.

Two other customers escaped the flames by running into a restroom and were rescued by firemen.

Inside, the small cafe was a blackened ruin.

Three Men Escape

The three men who threw the bomb escaped in a car amidst a barrage of gunfire from a passerby. Vernon Waggy, 24, told police he was walking down the street when he saw the men running.

"I pulled out a .32 caliber automatic which I carry for protection and fired at them. think I hit one," he said.

Miguel Martinez, 29, a student, said he was walking near the cafe when a car pulled up in front.

"Two men jumped out," he said. "One sloshed a big can of some sort of liquid into the bar."

Then, Martinez said, the second

County, Local Teachers Mark N.E.A. Centennial At Dinner

The Adams County branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association celebrated the 100th anniversary of the founding of the National Education Association at a birthday dinner party Thursday evening at Rolling Acres Elementary School at Littlestown. More than 150 attended. The guest speaker was the Rev. Nevin Smith, pastor of Emanuel Reformed Church of Hanover.

Husbands and wives of teachers, county and state school officials were guests. The school cafeteria staff served a roast beef dinner.

Charles E. Tressler, industrial arts teacher at the Littlestown High School and president of the county PSEA branch, presided as toastmaster at the dinner. Sharing the honors in cutting a three-tiered birthday cake were Arthur M. Gordon, Biglerville High School, a past president of the county PSEA, and Albert Snyder, president of the Future Teachers' Association at Littlestown.

Guests Introduced

President Tressler congratulated the NEA and its state and local affiliates on their record of service, pointed to the NEA growth to 700,000 members and in wishing the NEA "many happy returns," expressed the hope it "may continue to grow in service in the years to come."

"It's not what you read and hear about schools and education, it's what you do about it that's important," F. F. Bailey, assistant superintendent of Lancaster County schools, told members of the Gettysburg branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association at their annual spring banquet Thursday evening at the Cashtown Fire Hall.

President Paul Burkholder, Meade School principal, presided at the dinner at which retired teachers were recognized and the 100th anniversary of the National Education Association was observed. More than 100 attended.

A turkey and oyster dinner was served by the Cashtown Fire Company Auxiliary. Special favors noted the NEA centennial.

"Heads, You Win"

Opening his talk with a tribute to the accomplishments of the retired teachers, Mr. Bailey spoke on "Heads, You Win." Observing that very few men ever really indulge in "the arduous, tiresome, hard work of thinking," he said the mark of a thinker is that "he waits and weighs the facts and makes sure he has all the facts."

"In proportion as we think we know and do not know, we are doing half-educated thinking," he continued. "Everyone thinks he knows all about running schools because they attended school themselves. We should all do our best thinking in the fields about which we know the most. There is too much lazy thinking, led by one who reads and hears and repeats all he reads and hears. It's dangerous to believe all we read and hear without thinking."

Richard Krick was in charge of decorations; Miss Jean Biggs, invitations; Miss Eva Jane Schwartz, the social committee, and Richard A. Folkenroth was the program chairman. The theme for the observance was "An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward."

600 PUPILS HAVE "PERFECT TEETH"

Upwards of 600 Gettysburg school children today received chevrons for having secured "perfect teeth" slips from their dentists under a program sponsored by the local Rotary club in cooperation with the school nurses.

The woolen chevrons, with the wording, "Gettysburg Dental Honor Roll," may be attached to the children's sweaters, it was announced.

Mrs. Ellen Miller and Mrs. Lucille Brennan, school nurses, said it was decided this year to present chevrons rather than to hold a party for the children who have "perfect teeth," as had been the custom in prior years.

Last year more than 800 children in the first six grades of the public and parochial schools, and the Day Care Training Center had "perfect tooth" slips.

The chevrons are being distributed as the teachers visit the school classrooms. It is expected that 200 more chevrons will be given by May 14, the nurses estimated.

On May 14 all of the children who have "perfect teeth" will be invited to attend the showing of a movie, probably in the high school auditorium.

The speaker said he has been engaged in research for eight years or more on the answer to the question: Is there a formula for getting along with yourself and with other people upon which men everywhere agree? The results of his research, to be compiled in book form, point, he said, to the fact that the secret of "getting along with people" lies "in the contributions we make with special importance being attached to the small rather than the big things we do."

Towering Snow Drifts Block Roads In Eastern Colorado

By FINIS MOTHERSHEAD

DENVER (AP) — Towering snow drifts blocked travel again today in east central Colorado and the southeast corner of Wyoming.

Winds up to 60 m.p.h., backlashing from a storm which dumped paralyzing snow two days earlier, churned blinding ground blizzards late yesterday.

The snowstorm toll mounted to eight deaths in Colorado.

Dust Clouds, Too

Farther south in Colorado, fresh dust was stirred high in the air despite the drought-denting moisture only 48 hours beforehand.

Giant rotary snowplows carved a path through fresh drifts so patrolmen could lead a stalled convoy of 40 cars the last 16 miles into Cheyenne from the west over U. S. Highway 30. Another group of 25 cars was led past deep drifts on U. S. 85-87 at a point seven miles south of the Wyoming capital.

Used Boat In Snow

Crews were laboring trying to reopen half a dozen major routes northward from Cheyenne and Laramie, Wyo., between those cities and in Colorado eastward from Preparations were made for delivery of a baby expected by Mrs. John Faris, 33, at a Buford, Wyo., crossroads store, but her race with the stork proved less close than expected.

Her husband cushioned a boat with blankets and towed it through deep snowdrifts with horses to get Mrs. Faris to Buford after a snowplow was unable to reach their home. Convoyed by another plow, she then was driven 24 miles through a ground blizzard to Laramie.

After spending the night at a hotel, she planned to board a train to Cheyenne — the opposite direction from Buford—so her doctor could deliver the baby at a hospital there. U. S. Highway 30 between Laramie and Cheyenne was blocked by two huge snowdrifts.

Twins Born In Snow

Farther west in southern Wyoming, a snowbound mother gave birth yesterday to twins, assisted only by her husband. One of the infants died. The mother, Mrs. A.

Will Conduct Scrap Drive In Taneytown

3 Per Cent Sales Tax Will Continue Automatically As Leader Passes Veto Power

HARRISBURG, (AP)—Gov. Leader allowed to become law today a Republican plan keeping the sales tax at 3 per cent and giving a new tax break to manufacturers, utilities and shipyards.

He said the industrial exemptions in the new law constituted "a multi-million dollar giveaway" and merited a veto.

He did not veto, Leader said, because Republicans had moved to accept strengthened enforcement provisions proposed by the State Justice Department.

The law went into effect automatically at midnight. The legislation was sent to Leader's desk 10 days earlier by the Republican-controlled legislature.

"Inexcusable Preferences"

In a 600-word statement given to newsmen 4½ hours before the midnight deadline, Leader attacked the industrial exemptions as "inexcusable preferences" for what he said were "certain favored groups."

"It makes unwarranted concessions to a handful of favored interests and in this manner set business against business," the governor said.

George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, praised the governor for rising above partisan consideration.

"In this particular instance, on an issue involving the future welfare of millions of Pennsylvanians, the governor put the welfare of the people first," Bloom said.

He took the position that the sales tax will produce enough revenue without putting "a hobble on much needed industrial and business expansions."

There has been no official estimate on how much the industrial exemptions will cost. Republicans say the over-all sales tax yield will be between 480 to 500 million dollars. Democrats say the figure is closer to 400 millions.

Shortly after announcing his decision, the governor signed into law measures retaining for another two years the cigarette levy at five cents a pack and the gross receipts tax on public utilities at 14 mills.

They are part of what the GOP described as a "no-new-taxes" package of nearly a billion dollars sent to the governor.

Other Measures Pending

Still awaiting action are measures continuing for another two years the corporate net income tas at 6 per cent and the real estate transfer tax at 1 per cent.

A gubernatorial veto of the sales tax would have meant the 3 per cent levy, enacted 13 months ago, would have dropped to 2 per cent June 1 and that the stamp plan for its collection would have been retained.

The system, suspended by a court test, would have provided for issuing stamps to consumers as evidence the tax was paid. The stamps in turn would have been redeemed by the state at 2 per cent of their face value.

"I also would have vetoed the measure if these (Republican) leaders had not agreed to abandon the costly and ineffective stamp tax plan," the governor said.

Asks Tax Study Group

Leader called on Republicans to set up immediately a tax study committee to write "a more equitable sales tax law."

"Clearly," he said, "a committee of this sort should not be answerable to any political party or lobby." He promised the support of his administration.

Describing the new law as merely a stopgap measure, the chief executive said that if Pennsylvania needs a sales tax, it should have one that works.

Even with the amendments to be made on enforcement provisions, Leader said, the measure is "still an unfair and bad bill."

The governor said many GOP lawmakers privately concede that the sales tax should be rewritten, adding:

"I urge these Republicans to say in public what they admit in private; to recognize that the dictates of conscience outweigh the dictates of caucus."

Reads Centennial Message

Miss Jane Bowers, secretary of the county PSEA, read the centennial speech that was delivered in Washington Thursday evening by the national president of NEA at the birthday party which was attended by President Eisenhower.

In his talk the Rev. Mr. Smith reviewed briefly the accomplishments of education in the last century and then said: "Our tomorrows demand a religious anchorage. A new kind of instruction is required now. We are beset by new questions in a world brought together by the advances of science. It seems that our scientific genius has superseded our intellectual, moral or ethical genius and we can't agree to get along together now that we have been brought together.

"I'm convinced it is well within the province of man to teach fellowmen the type of behaviour required to get along together. The biggest job for educators today is to teach men to be willing to submit to playing an ordinary role in the symphony of human experience, instead of producing soloists like Hitler, Mussolini, Nasser or Ben-Gurion. Teachers must find it in their hearts and minds to prepare children for a harmonious life in our modern wrold. That is the challenge alike of schools, churches and homes."

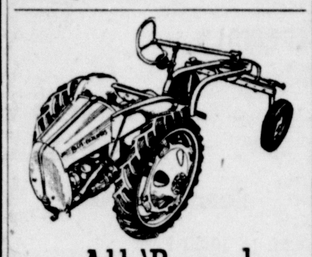

Lots Of Birthday Cakes

The accent was on the birthday theme at the Littlestown dinner. There were three big birthday cakes—a three-tiered one on the speakers' table that was cut and served, a 10-foot one on the stage and a huge specially decorated cake in the lobby. Each table had a small cake each with a single candle. There were centennial place mats and napkins and the motto of the NEA celebration, "An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward," was spread across one end of the banquet hall above the stage.

Harold Sentz, a Littlestown teacher, sang the invocation and the meal was served by white-jacketed, bowtied upperclass boys from Littlestown High. President Tressler thanked the committee on arrangements that included: Chairman Paul Harner and Mrs. Joanne Breighner, Frank Keefer, Frank Basehoar, John H. Riley, Mrs. Deardorff, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sheely and Richard D. Thomas.

SPEND $84,000 TO BALK UNION

CHERBOURG, France, (AP)—The Queen Mary sailed for New York with 1,100 passengers today after a trip to Europe on which she steered clear of her home port of Southampton.

The 81,000 ton Queen Mary docked at Cherbourg Monday, bypassing Southampton, where 1,124 of her passengers had expected to land. She kept out of the British port because of a blacklisting by British shipyard workers. Union leaders took the action on grounds repairs to the luxury liner were not completed when Britain's shipyard strike began and the liner began her previous trip to New York with the help of government tugs.

The Cunard Line spent some $84,000 to ferry passengers and crew members back and forth and to fly food and other supplies from Britain to Cherbourg.

Last weekend the students of Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, were overwhelmed by a shattering tragedy which cost the life of a young basketball star, Edward Galen, and brought serious injury to two others, Richard Gardiner and John Dailey. As happens in so many cases of this sort, the Mountaineer student body rose to face the catastrophe in the inspiring fashion that lifts men almost to new levels of Catholic faith.

News of the frightful wreck reached the Mt. St. Mary's campus at approximately 3 a.m. Sunday morning. In less than 15 minutes the college hummed with activity as students tumbled out of bed to hurry off half asleep to the college chapel to begin a constant vigil before the altar. In the days that have passed since the accident occurred the Mountaineer students have continued to storm heaven in behalf of their injured fellows. Day and night through almost a week, group of 20 or 30 students were found in the chapel beseeching the miracle that seemed the only thing that stood between their companions and death.

* * *

Not even the death of Ed Galen on Monday afternoon dampened their ardor. Indeed Galen's passing seemed to spur them to greater efforts in Jack Dailey's behalf. It was a common sight during the week to see students hurrying through the corridors to class, books in one hand, Rosary in another.

There have been formal prayers, of course, in which the entire student body has participated, but it has been the spontaneous reaction that has been so edifying.

The students have done more than pray, of course. They overwhelmed Warner Hospital when it became evident that blood donors would be needed. They have haunted the hospital corridors since Saturday night, running errands, offering what solace they could to bereaved parents, hopeful that in some way their constant devotion might sway the balance in favor of their comrades.

man swung his arm like a softball pitcher and the cafe erupted in flames. Police said the man apparently tossed in a match.

"Wall Of Flames"

Art Hartner said he was driving home with his wife Juanita when he saw the cocktail lounge belch flames onto the sidewalk.

"The whole place was a wall of flames and I saw a girl stumble out on the sidewalk," Hartner, a truck driver, said.

"She was all on fire, her hair, her clothes, even her shoes.

"I wrapped her in my coat and tried to beat out the flames as she cried: 'Why did they do it? What about my children?' The woman, tentatively identified by police as Jackie McGinnis, in her early 20s, was dead on arrival at Georgia Street Receiving Hospital.

Wanted To Dance

Police identified the other victims as:

Gilbert John Gonzalez, Harry L. Robinson, Tony Smaldino, Philip Crawshaw and a John Doe. Bartender Fenton said all were regular customers.

Minnie Morales, 28, a typist, said the trouble in the bar began when three young men she had never seen before insisted that she dance with them. Police said they had been denied service earlier, but returned for a second time.

"They started pawing me, so the bartender and two or three other customers threw them and an older man they were with out on the street," she said.

Miss Morales was not there when the explosion occurred.

Police said about 15 persons were in the bar.

SEEK TITLE FOR EMMITSBURG'S JUNE PAGEANT

EMMITSBURG — The Bicentennial Committee is seeking an appropriate title for Emmitsburg's historical pageant. Two box seat tickets to the extravaganza will be awarded to the person submitting the most suitable title. The winner will receive special recognition during the affair which begins June 22 and terminates June 29. The contest is open to the public and any one may send in as many titles as they care to. The contest will continue until April 15 and all entries must be in the hands of the judges by that date.

It is suggested by the committee that the contestants adapt their titles to the theme of the pageant which will be based on the history of Emmitsburg, its geographical location, its proximity to the Mason-Dixon Line, colleges and Indians.

It was announced this week that headquarters for the bicentennial will be open Monday in the Harner building, adjacent to the American store on the square.

The headquarters will be opened on a full-time basis from Monday until the termination of the celebration in June. All mail and inquiries are to be directed to Bicentennial Headquarters, Emmitsburg, and if possible the name of the division interested in, such as parade, special events, historical displays, historical tour, decorations or housing accommodations. The headquarters will not be open Sundays.

Wales E. Rightnour, speical events chairman, discussed the possibility of having a Pioneer Recognition Day and a special day dedicated to the firemen from surrounding counties concluding with a parade of fire apparatus. The parade will be held the opening day of the celebration, Saturday, June 22.

Today's Talk

THE DECISION

I once spent happy days at a camp for boys. It was a heartening experience. Early every morning scores of boys would go to the springboard and take the plunge into very cold water. A few would hesitate — then each one would follow the other, and come out refreshed, mself among them.

Often the thing of coming to a decision seems more difficult than the act itself. Successful people, however, are those of decision, those who have had the faith and courage to make a decision and then put it to the test. These are grave days, when the decisions may result in either war or peace. I came across this statement by the beloved Irene Dunne. She said: "I never did get to the Metropolita but the decision started me on my career."

James Graham, First Marquis of Montrose, said: "He either fears his fate too much, or his deserts are small, that dares not put it to the touch, to gain or lose it all." Napoleon once said: "The reason why I beat the Austrians was that they did not know the value of five minutes." Later this same man was hours too late in starting action, and so lost the Battle of Waterloo. Important decisions have made all the difference, as our many histories tell us.

We grow in individual power just the moment we make a decision. Whether right or wrong, only a decision can tell. We all make bad decisions, but if we have the will and courage to right them, we may be sure that we have gained our own respect, and that of others. Making the decision is the thing that counts. We are the better for having made it.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Habit"

Protected, 1957, by the George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

PLEA

Grant us all the pride of peace,
Save us from the pangs of hate.
Till at last our lives shall cease
Grant us wisdom to be great.

Grant us patience for our tasks,
Bravely may we work and wait.
Lord, but this Thy servant asks:
Have him fit for any fate.

What if strength must be denied,
If with wisdom he's not blest,
With what traits have been supplied
Let him strive to do his best.

Triumph seldom is allowed;
At the top but few can stand.
Still of self I would be proud,
Pure of mind and clean of hand.

YOU CAN'T DO IT ALONE, WINGY . . .
By ED FURGOL
National Open Golf Champion

The morning after the final round of the National Open Golf Championship back in 1954, many newspapers published my picture as I was making the decisive shot of that tournament.

Ed Furgol

The expression on my face, people said, was one of incredulity: I looked as if I couldn't believe I had won.

I believed it, all right. It was the climax of a 10-year dream. That expression on my face was simply startled happiness.

Even as a kid my chief interest was golf.

One day my chances were almost ruined forever. It happened at a playground. An older boy was swinging on the crossbars. I decided to try it myself.

A Broken Arm

On my first swing I lost my grip and fell to the ground. There was a sharp pain in my left arm. The broken bone had pierced the skin.

Then came a procession of doctors, hospitals, X-rays, therapy. Yet my arm never healed properly, and eventually it became 10 inches shorter than my right.

I still wanted to play tournament golf. But could I, now that a bad arm made it impossible for me to swing a club properly?

"You can try," I said.

Ahead, I sensed, were dismal hours of failure, lonely days when I would need someone to lean on, someone to strengthen me. Where does one get such help? From friends and loved-ones. True.

Church And Prayer

Still something else is needed. At this point, what had been a boyhood routine of Sunday School, church and family prayer developed a new meaning for me.

I resumed caddying. Whenever possible, I played golf or practiced at roadside driving ranges. Every minute my weak hand was exercised by the constant squeezing of tennis balls and the flipping of coins. I took up boxing to build up the muscles of my good arm.

Friends nicknamed me "Wingy." Though my crooked arm might have looked humorous to them, to me it was humiliating. Yet, since my arm did stick out like a wing, I made up my mind that I would make it a wing that would help me soar over the handicap of injury. From then on, the nickname didn't bother me any more.

In Tournaments

At 21 I entered my first tournament and reached the semi-finals. To me, this was proof that I could some day go even further.

I was in Detroit in 1941 when World War II broke out. Because my arm kept me out of service, I went to work in a war plant. Each free moment was spent at golf, and it was during this time that I met Helen Bucsko, the first person to whom I could explain how I felt about golf.

"I've got to believe in myself," I told her. "I can't accept the possibility that a bum arm is going to make me a second-class man. I want today everything I wanted before the accident. I'm still the same person."

Helen looked at me for a moment. "I believe in you, Ed," she said.

Nine Tough Years

She expressed that same faith many times during the four years I stayed in Detroit. By 1944, I had won a couple of amateur tournaments, but the big challenge remained: playing against the top professionals.

I turned pro in 1945 and left Detroit. In my first two tournaments I won a total of $775, which looked like a fortune to me. I went back to Detroit and married Helen, and together we hit the road touring the circuit of tournaments.

The next nine years were rougher on Helen than on me. But she never complained.

To earn money, I probably played in more tournaments than any other pro golfer in the country, and though I won runner-up prizes I had yet to win a title.

Finally, I discovered why. Always I had tried to beat the other golfers; I worried about their score. I forgot that my dedication to golf was intended to be a victory over myself, against the mental and spiritual blocks that can come from being handicapped. I realized then that the tenseness inside me while I played was the very fear I had determined to overcome when I was a boy.

"Keep Your Head"

Helen sensed what I was going through. One day, as a tournament started, she whispered to me: "Keep your head." Later she began saying these words every time I started a contest. They became a code of conduct for me.

A change came over me. Golf was no longer a challenge; it was a way to express myself.

I could say: "I've got a bad arm — so what? I love golf, and I play golf the best I can." Other handicapped people were saying the same, whatever their jobs. Perfectly healthy people could say no more.

Always in the back of my mind was the idea of winning an important tournament. I took another try at it in 1955 when I went East to play in the National Open.

A Rough Course

The tournament was at Baltusrol in New Jersey, one of the longest and roughest courses in the country. On such a course and against such men, the required 72 holes of play in three days was tension-packed.

From the beginning, several of us were bunched for first place. It was one of those tournaments anyone could win.

On that last, decisive round, I was still among the leaders. Came the final 16th hole. My drive hooked into the woods.

There was a time when I would have panicked — as being called "Wingy" once threw me. But 10 years of practice and personal discipline helped me stave off fear.

A Life-Long Dream

Approaching the ball, deep in the rough but still playable, I was saying to myself:

"God, let me keep my head."

When I bent over the ball, I was subconsciously aware of all my years of training of practice, all slanted toward this one moment. As I swung, I put into the movement everything I knew should be there.

The ball arched out of the rough and rolled within inches of the cup. I knew then that I had won the championship, that a life-long dream had been fulfilled.

It was at this moment that the photographer took my picture.

TOMORROW — Arthur Gordon, a former magazine editor, tells how faith taught him to be bold and how he learned that the surest antidote to fear is religious faith.

SCHOOLS MORE POWERFUL THAN ATOM, IKE SAYS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, stressing need for more classrooms, says America's schools are "more powerful even than the energy of the atom" and more important than guided missiles.

The President put it that way last night in a new appeal for congressional approval of the administration's school construction program.

In an address at the centennial dinner of the National Education Assn. and to a nationwide radio audience, Eisenhower linked school training of the nation's youth to the quest for enduring world peace.

Part Of National Defense

"The hope of the world," he said, "is that wisdom can arrest conflict between brothers. I believe that war is the deadly harvest of arrogant and unreasoning minds."

But the strength of America's arms, he said, always is related to the strength of the minds of its people.

"Our schools are strong points in our national defense," he said. "Our schools are more important than our Nike batteries, more necessary than our radar warning nets, and more powerful even than the energy of the atom.

Heard By 1,200

"This is true, if for no other reason than that modern weapons must be manned by highly educated personnel if they are to be effective, and the energy of the atom can only be understood and developed by the most highly trained minds in the country."

The President's audience of about 1,200 educators listened in solemn silence during his 15-minute talk, but gave him a big ovation when he was introduced and at the conclusion.

Eisenhower sounded his new appeal for action a few hours after the first step in Congress toward easing the classroom shortage.

A House Education subcommittee yesterday approved 6-1 a bill to authorize a five-year, two-billion-dollar program of federal grants to help the states build schools.

The bill, scheduled to go before the full committee next Thursday, is a compromise between the administration's plan for a four-year $1,300,000,000 program and a suggestion by Democrats for a six-year, $3,600,000,000 program.

Weather and field conditions permitting, three Gettysburg College athletic teams will be in action here Saturday afternoon.

The Bullet track team opens its campaign against Western Maryland at 2 o'clock; "Hen" Bream's baseball team opposes Harvard University at 2:30, and the college tennis squad has its inaugural against Bucknell at 2.

Jack Ridinger, who has assumed coaching of the track team, has nine lettermen on his squad. They include Ron Paul, Jim Apple, Stanton Musser, Charles Naumann, Paul Detwiler, Dave Kessler, Fred Huffnagle, Bill Ward and Dave Hetrick.

During spring football practice Ridinger was engaged in helping coach the gridders while Johnny Yovicsin was in charge of the trackmen. Saturday's meet, in which he will aid, will be the last event for Yovicsin who expects to leave around the first of May for Harvard University where he was recently elected head football coach.

Track Entries

Bullet entries in the various events follow: 100-dash, Paul, Apple, George Griener; 220, Paul, Griener, Musser; 440, Musser, Joe Kochenderfer; 880, Naumann, Carl Miller, Carter Koven, Detwiler; mile, Naumann, Miller; two-mile, Kessler, John Dill; 120 high hurdles, Detwiler, Apple; 220 low hurdles, Musser, Huffnagle; high jump, Ward, Jeff Langsam; pole vault, Huffnagle, Charles Heverly; broad jump, Huffnagle, Apple, Tim Cousins; shot put, Dave Yohn, Ward, Dick Ford, Bill Morrow; discus, Morrow, Ford.

No javelin throw will be held Saturday in deference to Western Maryland, a Mason-Dixon Conference excludes the javelin throw in its meets.

The college baseball squad has already had two games called off this week and practices have been curtailed due to inclement weathe The Bullets and Cornell played to an 8-8 tie here a week ago in the only previous engagement for the Bream-men.

Harvard Loses Three

Harvard is currently on a southern tour. On Monday the Crimson lost to the University of Maryland 2-1, and lost to Richmond 8-3 on Tuesday and again 7-1 Thursday.

Three veterans are scheduled for action when Dick Shubart's tennis squad opposes Bucknell.

Charles Moyer, Chauncey Yingst and Jerry Robbins were members of last year's squad. Newcomers listed to oppose the Bisons are Bill Fisher, Dave Wingfield and Howard Body.

Debaters Fail To Settle Elvis Fuss

ATLANTA (AP)—The question of whether "Elvis Presley deserves an athletic scholarship" still is unresolved.

Members of the Harvard University and Georgia Tech debating teams fought to a tie over that perplexing resolution last night.

Harvard took the negative approach to the athletic ability of the rock 'n' roll performer. Paying Presley would be a waste of money, Harvard said.

The Tech viewpoint seemed to be that Presley would be an asset because of his competitive spirit. Tech said this spirit was exemplified by Presley's remark that "I don't take nothin' from nobody"

Phillies Strand 11 Losing To Yankees

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — The weak-hitting Philadelphia Phillies lost a game to the New York Yankees 1-0 yesterday after leaving 11 men on base, which foreshadows a headache for Manager Mayo Smith in the coming weeks.

One bright spot: Robin Roberts again is displaying the form that makes him one of the Phillies' all time stars.

In eight innings against the Yankees yesterday, he gave up just one but and didn't walk a single batter. He threw only 78 pitches and went to three balls on a batter just once. Only six balls were hit to the outfield, and in one stretch, 18 batters couldn't hit past he infield.

ROBIN ROBERTS AT EASE AGAIN ON THE MOUND

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Robin Roberts, trim, fit and doing things with a curve, looks ready to get back into that old 20-victory rut again. No more piddlin' 19-victory seasons for Robin.

The big, control-conscious right-hander, a basic reason for the Philadelphia Phillies being in or near the National League's first division for seven seasons, appears at ease again on the mound.

The 30-year-old veteran, troubled by a back ailment last year, gave the New York Yankees a look at the best pitching they've seen this spring yesterday. It wasn't until after Robin left for a pinch-hitter that the world champions managed to gain a 1-0 victory.

9 Down In Order

For eight innings, Roberts permitted but one hit—a bunt single by Hank Bauer that opened the fourth inning. The first nine Yanks went down in order. Robin retired 18 in a row with the ball never leaving the infield. He faced only 26 batters, struck out three, walked none.

The only other Yank to reach base was Jerry Coleman, safe on Willie Jones' error in the eighth.

In the ninth, Yankee rookie Woody Held tripled off rookie righthander Dick Farrell and Gil McDougald followed with a sacrifice fly that brought home the run and lifted the Yanks over .500 despite only two hits.

Brooklyn Batters Browns

McDougald junked the Phils' bid in the ninth, stabbing a "sure" RBI hit to center by Ted Kazanski that got reliefer Bobby Shantz out of the inning. Shantz had relieved Whitey Ford, who gave five hits, walked three but struck out six in seven innings—his first work since March 23 because of a tender arm. Ford has allowed only one run in 21 innings for an 0.43 ERA.

Elsewhere, Brooklyn battered Milwaukee 14-8; Chicago's White Sox nipped the Boston Red Sox 6-5 in 11 innings; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Detroit 5-4; Pittsburgh's singles beat Kansas City 4-3; Cincinnati rallied to defeat Washington 5-4 in 10; the New York Giants halted Cleveland's winning streak at six games 9-6, and Baltimore walloped Chicago's Cubs 18-5.

The Dodgers were out-hit by the Braves 16-14, but the Brooks collected 12 extra base hits —five of them home runs and two of those by Duke Snider. Milwaukee again had fun with Johnny Podres, scoring three runs in his five frames, and then tagged rookie Rene Valdes for the rest, three on Hank Aaron's ninth home run. Gene Conley started for the Braves.

Pound Bob Lemon

Reliefer Ellis Kinder worked the White Sox out of a ninth-inning hole when Boston loaded the bases with none out. Then Bubba Phillips tripled and rookie Earl Battey brought him home with a sacrifice fly.

Two runs in the seventh won for the Cardinals, making the most of Pete Wojey's wildness while Hoyt Wilhelm was settling a Tiger ralley. Don Hoak's single won for the Redlegs, held hitless for six innings by Bob Chakales. Wally Post's two-run homer gave Cincy a tie in the ninth.

Bob Lemon and Don Mossi were battered for 13 hits by the Giants, with Vic Wertz homering twice for the Indians. Eight singles in the first two frames gave the Pirates all their runs off Virgil Trucks. The Orioles banged 22 hits in their romp past the Cubs.

CARL ERSKINE, SPOONER HAVE SAME TROUBLE

BROOKLYN (AP) — Carl Erskine and Karl Spooner, worried and perplexed, have found out sound can make them sound again.

The two sore-armed Brooklyn Dodger pitchers learned in a hospital report yesterday that both have the same trouble — calcium deposits.

Both are taking the same treatment, with ultrasonic sound waves attacking the calcium to break up the deposits.

"It's sure a relief to know at last what's wrong," said Erskine, the 30-year-old righthander who twice has hurled no-hitters in his nine years with the Dodgers.

Calcium In Shoulder

The "nice - guy" veteran, who set a world series record by striking out 14 to beat the New York Yankees 3-2 in the third game of the 1953 classic, said the two-day hospital tests uncovered the calcium "high in the back of my shoulder, not where it hurts, but just above it. They're quite sure the pain and the calcium are related. There are three bits which weren't visible before."

Erskine, with a 113-69 won-lost record in the majors after a 13-11 mark last season, said that "while these new ultrasonic treatments are no overnight cure, I'll be pitching again before you know it."

Spooner's case is almost identical. The 25-year-old lefthander, who broke into the majors with back-to-back shutouts and a record for strikeouts (27) in two successive games late in 1954 but has not been nearly as impressive since, said he has calcium deposits "in my left shoulder socket. I'm hoping that with a full set of treatments I'll be okay again."

Softball League Meeting Tuesday

A meeting of officials of the local Softball League will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Moose Home, York St.

All teams are requested to have representatives present as important business is scheduled in planning for the coming season.

Inclement Weather Again Halts Teams

Continuing rain today threatened to wipe out the local athletic sports program.

The Gettysburg College-Georgetown golf match scheduled for this afternoon has been postponed until Monday. Biglerville and Northern Joint of Dillsburg cancelled their baseball game at Biglerville.

Other postponements or cancellations are expected to develop.

Fight For Right To Meet Archie Moore

DETROIT (AP)—It will be the slam-bang style of Chuck Spieser against the quick-fisted counter punches of Tony Anthony when the two light heavyweights battle tonig for the right to meet champion Archie Moore.

Spieser is a heavy favorite in the scheduled 12-rounder which will be televised nationally (NBC-TV, 10 p.m. EST) from Detroit's Olympia Stadium. It's the two-time Olympic battler's first "big" fight in his home town, and a victory would mean an opportunity to take on Moore in a June 7 battle in the same stadium.

Anthony has 22 knockouts to his credit in his 29-4 record.

MINOR LEAGUES TO GET CHECKUP BY BILL DEWITT

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Baseball's minor leagues will get a long hard look from Bill DeWitt before the newly appointed baseball coordinator starts dipping into his $500,000 treasury for grants to hard-pressed owners.

"Right now we're trying to assemble information," said DeWitt at Al Lang Field. "We're looking into the situation in various cities and studying population trends. Our work is supposed to supplement the administrative job of George Trautman and the national association.

"So far, we haven't paid out a cent to anybody. We're going slow, trying not to step on anybody's toes.

No Early Grants

"We have made it a policy to make no grants to any club until after the opening of the 1957 season.

"One fellow approached us with a request for $1,500 to pay some back debts. Another wanted us to pick up the tab for some withholding taxes that were two years old.

"It is our purpose to try to stabilize the minor leagues in cooperation with Trautman and to help his office if we can."

The $500,000 in DeWitt's care was set up by the major leagues with each of the 16 clubs assessed $31,250.

BARONS HOLD PLAYOFF EDGE

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Barons will go into the sixth game of the first round best-of-seven American Hockey League playoff series at Hershey, Pa., tomorrow night holding a 3-2 edge.

The Barons came from behind last night to defeat the Hershey Bears, 2-1, before a crowd of 6,153 at the Cleveland Arena.

If Hershey wins tomorrow, the seventh game will be played here Sunday afternoon. The series winner will meet Rochester in the Calder Cup finals. Rochester already has reached the finals by blasting Providence, last year's champions, four games to one in the other first round series.

After a scoreless first period last night, Hershey grabbed the lead when Duncan Fisher hit in a 20-footer on a pass from playing coach Frank Mathers at 9:59 of the second period.

A little less than seven minutes later Cleveland, holding a man advantage on penalties, tied the score when coach Jack Gordon scored on short range after being fed the puck by Steve Kraftcheck and Fred Glover. The Barons' winning goal came at 19:13 of the second period after Jimmy Moore won a tussle for the puck and sent a long pass into the goal mouth for Glover, who scored.

Jackie Burke Jr. Establishes Record 71 In Opening Round Of Masters' Augusta Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jackie Burke Jr. is a steel-eyed Texan who laughs at the jinx that Masters champions never repeat.

"I don't let that stuff bother me," the boyish-looking 34-year-old Houston professional said after shooting the only sub-par round—a 71—of the 101 stars who took a crack at the Augusta National course yesterday.

The score was the highest ever to lead the Masters on opening day.

Today Burke tries to defend his slender lead — one stroke over five players, two strokes over eight others and only three ahead of another 13—but it's sure these challengers never faced a cooler calculator.

Felt No Pressure

"I hear the Masters champion never repeats," Jackie said. "Certainly, I know that others were favored, such as Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff. They should be, on their records.

"But never once did I think about these things. Not once did I feel any pressure of being a champion trying to win again. I found out long ago that there's enough to think about trying to whip a golf course.

"So there's just one thing in my mind. I go out there to beat the course, to play the best possible golf I can. Then if that isn't good enough, it's just too bad."

Stars Fall Down

If Jackie were the type to get concerned, Middlecoff, the National Open champion, and Hogan, one of the great golfers of our era, wouldn't be on his "worry" list. Middlecoff, missing six putts of under three feet, soared to a 79. Hogan shot a 76.

Closest on Jackie's heels were two menacing young Australians, British Open champion Peter Thomson and Bruce Crampton; Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., each seeking his fourth Masters title; and the old workhorse of the pro tour, Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., former champion of the Professional Golfers Assn. and the year's leading money winner. All had par 72s.

Several Are Tied

Tied at 73 were Britain's Henry Cotton, Canada's Al Balding, Ed Furgol, Arnold Palmer, Jerry Barber, Skee Riegel and Bud Ward—and the reigning national amateur champion, Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco.

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., was par for 17 holes before stopping because of darkness and needed only a par 4 on the final hole to fall into the 72 group. A birdie would give him a tie with Burke for the first-round lead.

The good thing about this is that Dan and Betty and those other youngsters too are here, in Church, because they want to be!

No one made them come. No one told them that they had to. No one threatened punishment if they didn't.

Though outside it is a bright sunny day and the woods and fields and streams beckon, they are here, in God's house, at prayer.

They'd like the country and the world to know that despite all this alarming "juvenile delinquency" there are good teen-agers too.

There are teen-agers who have been instructed in the Christian way of life, and who have discovered what the Church can mean to them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are. (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday School Lesson

By H. R. and M. C. Gold

JESUS FACES THE CROSS
Matthew 26:26-29, 36-46

Key Verse: My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. Matthew 26:39.

The verse above is definitely the key to the lesson — a supreme example of acceptance of suffering. Before Christ the Cross was a sign of suffering and shame; since then it has become a sign of victory over death. But someone had to suffer and die for the sins of others and that One was our Lord, Jesus Christ.

From Christ's agony in the Garden of Gethsemane and His prayer to the Father we know that the price He paid was not easy. Before we examine that lonely vigil in the Garden, let us review the event that preceded it. The Lord's earthly life and mission was drawing to a close and the last day brought a series of fast-moving events.

On the eve of His death, Jesus and His disciples had met in the upper room for a fellowship meal now known as the Last Supper. Just before Jesus broke the bread and took the cup, instituting the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, the betrayer had been revealed and the remaining Eleven were heavy hearted and apprehensive. Would this be the end of the Kingdom and its Leader?

Last Meal Together

The holy Sacrament and Jesus' sacred words relieved the tension although they knew it was the last meal together. Jesus was giving them a new relationship — "my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins." This was the purpose of Jesus' coming sacrifice. At this point there seems to be a widening gulf between the Man and His disciples, between the divine and human understanding. Yes, the disciples followed Him into the Garden to pray but were more susceptible to their bodily needs than to Jesus' spiritual needs.

Gethsemane was an orchard of olive trees or the Mount of Olives across the Kedron Valley from Jerusalem. There Jesus had often come to pray and meditate; now He needed desperately some human comfort and solicitude. But while He prayed alone, Peter, James, and John slept the hour away. Suddenly the approaching humiliating tragedy, the faithlessness of His closest friends, and the uncertainty of His enemies' movements overcame Him. This is when He cried out to God as a dutiful but sorrowful son. Having overcome His own temptation in the stillness and darkness, He walked to the sleeping trio and said to Peter, "So, could you not watch with me one hour? Watch and pray that you may not enter into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."

Weary And Sleepy

But they were weary and sleepy so He prayed alone again, knowing He must face His trials and sorrow alone. No use lecturing them one reproof was enough. God gave Him strength and the power to accept what would come. Undoubtedly He heard the stealthy steps of His enemies approaching so He awakened the disciples abruptly saying, "Behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. Rise, let us be going; see, my betrayer is at hand." And then the kiss of Judas was the sign to arrest Him.

The significance of suffering and the meaning of the Cross are the symbols of the Christian faith. Jesus was the perfect Man but many followed who accepted martyrdom in the same spirit of forgiveness and submission. A Christian does not arrive at maturity of thought and action in a little while. He is tried, tested until his faith is pure. Everyone who is worthy of testing passes through a defensive preparation, taking his problems to his Lord and Savior in prayer. In this way he will discover God's will as Jesus did in the Garden and will march forth to face the future. Such confident faith is a sign of a redemptive people who are willing to attack life's problems and achieve victory.

U. S. NOT TO FILL IN WHERE BRITISH CUT THEIR FORCE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic and military officials reported today that the United States has no plans to fill any "vacuums" which may be created by Britain's announced intention to cut back its military forces.

The reduction program, announced in London yesterday, is regarded in official quarters here as an unhappy but unavoidable result of Britain's need to cut costs.

The net result, it was generally agreed, will be a weakening of the available security strength of the free world although this effect will be offset in some degree by providing greater firepower for the smaller British forces, partly with U.S. aid.

Promised Missiles

The United States has already committed itself to provide the British with 1,500-mile-range guided missiles as soon as they become available.

The eventual establishment of missile bases in Britain with atomic warheads stored nearby under American control—will give the British a striking power against Russia which they have not heretofore had.

The British program, on which there have been consultations with the United States, calls for cutting armed forces from 690,000 to 375,000 within five years. It is designed to lower defense costs by 600 million dollars in 1957-58.

British Make Cuts

It calls for a cut of 13,000 men in the British forces in West Germany this year. The present total is 77,000.

British forces are being withdrawn entirely from Jordan, in the Middle East, and they will be progressively reduced in Libya. Remaining British troops in Korea are to be pulled out although a liaison mission will be kept at United Nations Command headquarters.

A substantial garrison will be maintained in Hong Kong and a mixed British and Gurkha force with combat air elements will be kept in the Southeast Asia area. Colonial garrisons will be cut.

Considered Sufficient

Britain is a member of the North Atlantic Treaty (NATO), Southeast Asia Treaty (SEATO) and Baghdad Pact—which are the keystones of the defensive grand strategy of the non-Communist nations.

For the moment, the resources of these groups are considered sufficient to provide the security needed in Europe, Southeast Asia and the Middle East.

This apparently is the basis for the conclusion that the United States does not now need to take measures to fill any vacuum which the British withdrawal may create. But privately, informed officials say that no one can look into the future far enough to see how long this may hold true.

Gets Salary After 18 Years In Office

WEST CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa. (AP)—Harry F. Mosman has been burgess, or mayor, of West Conshohocken for 18 years, and has always managed to fight off efforts of the Borough Council to pay him a salary.

He says his only interest is "work for the borough and its people."

The other night, the Council again voted him a salary. At long last, Mosman gave in, saying, "Well, if you insist. . . ."

He'll get $120 a year, retroactive to Jan. 1.

NEW ACCESSORY

RENO (AP) — Just because he can't get the long cast on his broken leg into his car doesn't stop contractor P. W. Burge from driving. He removed the door and rigged up a platform to rest the leg on. He hangs a red warning flag from the cast.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Fife Knowland, the 48-year-old Californian who may seek the what he's been doing since he became Republican leader in ths Senate in 1953.

He continues to criticize and oppose President Eisenhower's programs when it suits him, which is often. If it seems strange that the Senate Republican leader should buck the Republican President, Knowland has offered an explanation:

He thinks, he said, it's his job to bring about a meeting of Senate minds on the President's proposals. He was quoted in Look magazine as saying he will agree with the President "unless it involves a matter of deep personal principles."

Ike Avoids Break

And he has said he has supported Eisenhower's program most of the time. Two years ago he claimed a 90 per cent record on that score.

Eisenhower has avoided a break with the senator, who must be a thorn in his side many times. Diplomatically he said of the differences between them that they are really more a matter of method than of principle.

Knowland announced not long ago he would quit the Senate when his term ends in January 1959. He had his eye on the White House in 1956, until Eisenhower said he would run again. Knowland hasn't denied he'll look in the same direction in 1960.

Critical Of U. N.

Knowland has repeatedly been critical of the United Nations. Eisenhower has tried to build it up and puts a lot of reliance in it.

This year Knowland wants to cut the President's budget and his foreign aid program. He also is against giving Communist Poland economic aid although the administration invited the Poles over here to discuss aid.

When the administration talked of sanctions against Israel unless it got out of Egypt, Knowland called this immoral unless sanctions were also invoked against Russia for not getting out of Hungary. Israel pulled its troops out; Russia still hasn't.

Going backwards to 1953, here were some other Knowland positions:

Opposed Red Visit

He objected to Eisenhower's sending Gen. Nathan F. Twining to Russia on a visit. He said the United States "retreated from principle" in agreeing to a "package deal" which let four Communist and 12 non-Communist nations into the U. N.

He doubted beforehand, the wisdom of Eisenhower's Big Four meeting with the Russians, British and French in Geneva in 1955 and cautioned against a "sell-out." He objected when Eisenhower that same year said he was willing to talk to the Red Chinese about a cease-fire around Formosa.

When the administration released the Yalta papers — the Roosevelt - Churchill - Stalin wartime talks — and Eisenhower said he hoped they would not be used for political purposes, Knowland said, "I don't agree."

ENGLAND WILL ABOLISH DRAFT IN THREE YEARS

LONDON (AP) — Britain Thursday announced a sweeping revision of her defense program designed to abolish the draft by 1960 and cut the armed forces from 690,000 men to 375,000 within five years.

Described as "the biggest change in military policy ever made in normal times," the new program slices defense costs by 785 million dollars in 1957-58. It scraps fur her development of supersonic bombers and fighters on the theory that these piloted aircraft will be replaced by guided missiles including some to be furnished by the United States.

Included in the cutbacks was a newly disclosed decision to withdraw Britain's troops from Libya and Korea. Date of the withdrawal was not given, but military sources expect them "fairly soon."

Get U. S. Missiles

Britain's revised defense bill for 1957-58 was estimated at $3,976,000,000.

As outlined a year ago, the program would have cost about $4,760,000,000.

The revised program is based largely on the supply of guided missiles which Britain will be receiving from the United States.

The program was outlined in an official White Paper which said the government aims to stabilize Britain's armed forces at about 375,000 regulars by the end of 1962.

The Defense Ministry said it was planning on the basis of ending the military draft by the end of 1960, 'ess than a year after Prime Minister Macmillan's government must face a general election if Parliament does not vote it out of office before.

TAYLOR TO BE AMBASSADOR

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Henry J. Taylor, writer and radio commentator, is scheduled to become U.S. ambassador to Switzerland. Swiss officials said Thursday they had notified the United States he is acceptable to this country.

Taylor is to succeed Miss Frances Willis, U.S. ambassador in Bern since 1953, who is at present in the United States.

The officials said Swiss approval of Taylor's appointment was requested by the U.S. charge d'affaires, William Blue, early in March and was formally given last Friday.

Ex-War Correspondent

Taylor, a 54-year-old Republican, in addition to being a radio commentator and writer on economic subjects, is prominent in banking and industrial circles. He is a trustee for the Manhattan Savings Bank, chairman of the Silicone Paper Co. of America.

He was a war correspondent in World War II for the Scripps-Howard newspapers. He became familiar to radio audiences as the commentator for the General Motors program "Your Land and Mine."

Wants Land-Based Transmitter At Once

NEW YORK (AP)—The new chief of the U.S. Information Agency called Thursday for qui construction of a land-based transmitter to send clear radio broadcasts into the crucial Middle East.

Director Arthur Larson, in a speech prepared for a public affairs luncheon of the Union League Club, also said 20 new USIA centers should be established in Africa.

Larson declared that the No. 1 aim of his agency should be:

"To establish throughout the world a high reputation for truth and believability. In my opinion, the age of tricky propaganda is about over."

FOUR STATES TO MAKE SURVEY OF RIVER BASIN

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Four states, New York City and Philadelphia have pledged their support to a vast survey of the Delaware River Basin.

New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware joined the two cities Wednesday in backing the Delaware Basin survey coordinating committee.

The action closed a two - day meeting of the committee which was formed about a month ago by President Eisenhower. Formation of the group was sparked by the 1955 flood which ravaged the river area and took over 100 lives.

Included in the survey will be industrial development, agriculture, recreation, pollution, power, possibility of dams, water use, flood control and ground water resources.

Finish In 1959

The study is due to be presented to Congress in 1959. It will be projected 100 years and include a 50-year forecast.

George H. Thompson, of the National Parks Service, said Thursday his report would include recommendations for new parks in the basin. Possible sites are in the lower Catskill - Pocono Mountain region, the South Jersey and Delaware coastlines, and the central metropolitan belt around Philadelphia.

Col. Allen F. Clark Jr., chief engineer for the Philadelphia Army Corps of Engineers and chairman of the committee, asked for a report next July, when the committee meets again, on the possible combined use of water for recreation and water supply.

JAP DECLARES CONGRESS RUDE

TOKYO (AP)—Seichi Inouye, parliamentary vice foreign minister, Thursday accused the U.S. Congress of being rude to Japan and damaging U.S.-Japanese relations.

Inouye assailed Congress for calling before one of its committees a Japanese professor now at Harvard University as a visiting lecturer. He is Shigeto Tsuru, a government official and professor at the National Hitotsubashi University.

Tsuru testified before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in Washington March 26-27 that he made some mistakes in his associations as a student in the United States in the 1930s but that he never has been a Communist.

Inouye told the Japanese Diet the Japanese Embassy in Washington had been instructed to make a strong protest to the U.S. government demanding that "such summons will not take place again without obtaining consent from us."

A student in the United States from 1931 to 1942, Tsuru was repatriated after the outbreak of the U.S.-Japanese war.

GOP CHAIRMAN SAYS LEADER'S RECORD PITIFUL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Republican national chairman Meade Alcorn says the "pitiful record" of Democratic Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, offers a great opportunity for a GOP victory in the Keystone State's 1958 gubernatorial rac

Speaking at a Republican victory dinner here Wednesday night, Alcorn combined a sweeping denunciation of the Democratic party with a plea for "more vociferous cheerleaders" for his own party.

The GOP national chairman said the Democratic party has coddled Communists and demonstrated repeatedly "an inability to keep us out of war." The Democratic party, he added, stands for bureaucracy and "the unhealthy climate in which corruption bred and flourished."

Alcorn said Pennsylvania's Democratic administration is "bogged down in Democrat (sic) ineptness, inefficiency, fumbling and foundering."

"The people of Pennsylvania have found through bitter experience that a Democratic governor is an expensive luxury," he said.

The testimonial dinner was for three prominent state Republicans, U.S. Rep. Hugh Scott of Philadelphia, a former national party chairman; state party chairman George I. Bloom, and Charles Smith, auditor - general - elect of Pennsylvania.

Alcorn told the diners he would like to see Republicans "develop a greater pride in partisanship . . . a keener sense of team spirit—a feeling that anything Republican is good because it is Republican."

"I would like to see us instill as much enthusiasm into our Republican organization throughout the nation as many of us have for our favorite football team or baseball team.

"We need to develop more vociferous cheerleaders within the party and fewer eloquent dissidents."

Ever serve breaded pork chops? They's unusually delicious. To prepare, dip the chops in seasoned flour, then in egg beaten with a little water, and finally in fine dry bread crumbs. SUMMERFIELD ASKS MORE AID FOR P. O. SERVICE

WASHINGTON (AP) —Postmaster General Summerfield has made a renewed plea for more funds to avoid a drastic cutback in mail services, starting tomorrow.

There was no indication whether Congress would heed his appeal.

Summerfield contends he needs 47 million dollars to carry on postal operations at present levels during the remaining three months of this fiscal year. He has said unforeseen expenses stemmed from increased mail volume and the need to serve widening residential areas.

A House Appropriations subcommittee this week recommended only 17 millions of that amount, despite word from Summerfield that he planned to curtail services unless he got the 47 millions.

Urges Quick Action

Last night, Summerfield sent a telegram to Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee asking him to "expedite urgently the action and report of the Appropriations Committee to the House so that if further funds are voted they will be available before too much damage is done to the service."

The full committee has not yet acted on the subcommittee's recommendation. Cannon, however, has indicated displeasure at what he says is a department effort to use "threats" on Congress.

In his telegram, Summerfield said that "with total reluctance" his department is planning to curtail postal service to meet he cu "imposed" by the subcommittee.

Summerfield has said that unless more money is assured, he plans to order, effective tomorrow, a halt in Saturday mail deliveries in cities and rural areas, and a reduction in deliveries to city business districts, discontinuance of money order sales, and other service cutbacks.

ISRAEL MAY USE SUEZ CANAL

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold indicates that he believes Egypt may let Israeli ships use the Suez Canal.

Hammarskjold was asked at a news conference yesterday about President Eisenhower's statement earlier this week that "we should not assume that Egypt will violate the 1888 convention" by barring Israeli ships from the canal.

"I think it is a wise assumption," the secretary general replied.

Egypt, however, has given no public indication that its bar to Israeli shipping will be lowered. Egypt in the past has refused to let Israeli ships go through the canal on grounds that a technical state of war still exists between the two countries.

Hammarskjold said he had had no reply from Egypt to Israel's question whether Egypt still considers itself at war with Israel.

He also said neither Egypt nor Israel had replied to queries as to whether they were willing to reaffirm, as a "nonaggression pact," a provision of their 1949 Palestine armistice agreement against warlike acts.

Cadillac

Old Friends in a New Light!

Let's assume you've known them for some time.

And now—in the moment of a glance—you first behold them in the company of a Cadillac car.

There's just no question about it . . . something wonderful happens!

For the presence of a Cadillac car underscores—and most dramatically so—many of the things that enable you to think well of them.

It goes almost without saying that their Cadillac lends form and substance to whatever measure of achievement life may have brought them.

Certainly, it reveals their interest in the safety and well-being of their fellow passengers.

And, most assuredly, it evidences the wisdom with which they select their personal possessions.

Incidentally, you may have noticed, of late, that the Cadillac car has cast its revealing light on an ever-growing number of your own friends.

There is every reason why this should be so.

Its original cost is remarkably modest—and several models are, in fact, priced competitively with those of lesser makes.

Its operating economy is extraordinary—with a record of dependability and longevity that is without equal in the industry.

And its resale value stands at the very summit in used-car markets all across the land.

Certainly, this triumvirate of Cadillac economies deserves your personal investigation—and your dealer will be delighted to tell you the whole wonderful story at any time.

Stop in soon—for a ride and a revelation!

TORNADO HITS TB SANATORIUM INJURING 50-75

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A tornado struck the Mississippi State Sanatorium for Tuberculars early Thursday, injuring 50 to 75 patients. Two other tornadoes ripped other parts of the state during the night, killing one person and injuring at least seven others.

The funnel cloud which hit the tuberculosis institution at Sanatorium in south Mississippi near Jackson at about 1 a.m. concentrated its fury on the Negro infirmary housing about 200 patients.

"Fifty to 75 were injured, and three of them are in serious condition," said Dr. Henry Boswell, the superintendent. "All suffered cuts and abrasions."

The other tornadoes occurred in a Negro community near Sylvarena in south Mississippi, where Mrs. Louis Jones, 65, was killed and three persons hurt; and near the Mississippi delta town of Glen Allen, where at least four persons were hurt. About 15 plantation workers' homes were blown away near Glen Allen.

Torrential rains following the twisters caused flash floods and filled streams to a danger point.

"The most automatic appliance in my kitchen is my new gas range"
See "Playhouse 90" with lovely hostess Julia Meade on CBS-TV. Watch local listings for time and station.

Julia Meade adds, "My new Gas range worries more about cooking a dinner than I do. If I'm having a roast or chicken, my built-in automatic Gas oven turns on without my being there, cooks, turns off at JUST the right time. Vegetables, coffee, anything on top of the range, I put on my new automatic top burner and FORGET . . . until I'm ready to serve. There's no burning, scorching, sticking or boilovers because the flame adjusts itself and keeps everything serving-hot."
Now that today's Gas ranges have all these burners that can turn their own flame up or down, on or off . . . wouldn't YOU be happier with a new Gas range? Remember, too, there's nothing like the FLAVOR of flame-cooking.
You can have the sensational new Gas top burner with automatic heat control on any of these famous-make ranges: Caloric • Estate Florence • Hardwick Kenmore • Magic Chef Norge • Roper • Tappan Universal • Western Holly.

See the sensational new automatic top burner heat control adjust the clean, blue Gas flame—automatically! Gas does it better for less.

In Memoriam 3

FARRAR: In loving memory of my dear mother who passed away 8 years ago today, April 5, 1949, and my dear father who passed away 14 years ago, Feb. 20, 1943.
The golden sun is shining upon my dear mother's grave,
One I loved so dearly and tried so hard to save.
When I lost you, dearest mother,
I lost a wonderful pal,
I love you now and miss you
More and more and ever shall.

A wonderful father, man and aid,
One who is better, God never made;
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But a wonderful father, that, father, was you.
Your loving daughter

SENATOR YOSKO FAILED TO GET COMMUTATION

By BOB HOLTON

HARRISBURG, April 5 (AP) — A Democratic member of the legislative committee probing the State Pardon Board said today he once talked with the board chairman relative to a scheduled clemency hearing.

"I talked to Lt. Gov. (Roy E.) Furman one time and explained the family difficulties brought to bear on a Northampton County family because of a man being in prison," said Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (Northampton).

Yosko identified the prison inmate as Steven S. Terlesky, serving two to four years on a charge of fraudulent conversion.

"I talked to the board chairman but he apparently paid no attention to me because the man was denied his commutation," Yosko told a newsman.

Walter Interceded

During testimony yesterday it was learned that Rep. Francis E. Walter (D—Pa.) wrote a letter to the board asking that favorable consideration be given Terlesky's case when it came before the board. The board rejected the appeal last year.

"I admit I went to the chairman and told him what I knew about this man and I certainly don't think that is any sign of political influence," Yosko said.

During a public hearing yesterday before the committee recessed until next Wednesday, Yosko said he "wished" he had written a letter to the board on Terlskey's behalf as did Congressman Walter

Received Many Letters

James Evans, assistant committee counsel, read a letter he said was sent by Walter to the board.

Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride contended that the persons who wrote letters are of no concern to the committee "but rather he subjec matter in the leter."

Vicor Wright, deputy attorney general, read some 15 letters he said were sent by political figures to the state board.

Among them were:

Sen. Samuel B. Wolfe (R—Union); Fep. Preston A. Frost (R—Centre); Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D—Pa); Rep. Francis E. Walter (D—Pa); David M. Walker, former secretary of labor and industry.

McBride stressed that he asked for a reading of the letters "not at all because I feel there are any political implications but just to balance the record."

Several weeks ago letters written to the present board were read by Kohn.

McKeldin Doesn't Know Dave Beck

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland has said he doesn't know Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union.

Furthermore, said McKeldin, he knows "of no contribution by Beck, none at all" to his campaign fund.

A national news magazine has said that the Republican governor's campaign fund for re-election in 1954 received $5,000 from the union leader.

Beck's handling of union funds has been under investigation by a Senate subcommittee on labor racketeering.

Towering

K. Reynolds, and her other baby were reported in good condition at Red Canyon Lodge, a resort 75 miles south of Green River.

In eastern Colorado, travel was halted in both directions from Limon, where 1,500 motorists were marooned the weekend of March 23 by another spring blizzard.

The latest death attributed to the snowstorm was that of a Ft. Carson, Colo., soldier whose frozen body was found 16 miles south of that Army post. He was Pvt. Ira D. Hullum, 22, of Oklahoma City. Military authorities said Hullum apparently lost his way back to a camp.
